

RICHARD LANDER SCHOOL

ADMISSIONS POLICY

Richard Lander School follows the LA Admissions Policy, and along with all other LA schools in Cornwall, places on transfer from primary school are allocated by the County team who follow the agreed Common Admissions Policy.

We shall always be happy to admit pupils into the school as long as places remain available. The Governing Body, however, reserves the right to consider each applicant individually. This applies particularly to any student who has been permanently excluded from another school, both within this Local Authority and within any other.

Our 'published admission number' is 250 students in year 11 and 270 students in years 7-10. These figures relate to the 2009 – 10 academic year. Our future PAN is scheduled to be 270 students in each year group.

It is essential that parents realise that there is always a high demand for places at Richard Lander, consequently once the school year has commenced, the preference for specific subjects in Years 10 and 11 can not always be met.

All appeals concerning our inability to admit pupils are handled by the Cornwall Schools Admissions team at County Hall.
